About the model

The Working Genius assessment is 20% personality and 80% productivity. This powerful tool identifies six fundamental activities — Wonder, Invention, Discernment, Galvanizing, Enablement, and Tenacity — and provides a framework for how work gets done. We're meant to use these gifts, what we call our geniuses, to contribute to the world around us.

Untap your team's potential

By identifying their working genius, individuals can better understand their strengths and how to apply them in their work. Additionally, understanding the working genius of others can help build stronger teams and improve communication and collaboration. Teams that use this tool tend to find immediate impact on their productivity, morale, and burnout.
